Kiddy Cook workshops, for 5-11 year olds, are more than about just cooking. As well as making yummy dishes, we do experiments (lots of fizz, bangs and pops), learn about ingredients, the traditions behind food and encourage healthy and varied eating. All children leave every session with the food they have made and a recipe card to cook their tasty treats again at home. They get a great sense of achievement sharing their creations with family and friends.

THINGS TO DO ANYTIME THIS SUMMER – Indoors & OutVOLUNTEER WITH SUMMER READING CHALLENGE - Ages 13-25 Mid July-Sept

Young reading enthusiasts are needed to help Norfolk children choose reading books, and help them complete an exciting challenge, at the county's libraries this summer.

Norfolk County Council's Library and Information Service is looking for volunteers aged 13-25 to get involved in this year's Space-themed "Space Chase" Summer Reading Challenge, due to start in July. Last year, more than 11,500 children took part.

The annual reading event for primary school children involves borrowing and reading at least six different books, getting rewards including stickers and a certificate and medal when the challenge is complete. The scheme relies on the help of up to 150 young volunteers who support Norfolk library staff at each of the 47 libraries.

Volunteering is a great confidence builder for young people, it encourages them to engage with their local communities and is also ideal for those involved in Scouting, Guiding or the Duke of Edinburgh Award scheme. Volunteering sessions take place between mid-July and beginning of September, during the school holidays. We ask for a commitment of two hours per week. Volunteers who are undertaking a Duke of Edinburgh award can use their volunteering towards the awards with a volunteering element. All young volunteers will receive a certificate to recognise their contribution and the library service offers young volunteers a reference for applications for work or further study.

If you are interested in helping out this summer, speak to staff at your local library or email volunteercontact@norfolk.gov.uk to request an application pack.

KRAV MAGA – KIDS / TEEN TRIAL PROGRAM (Age 6-15)

£14.95 <https://www.arkravmaga.co.uk/?p=kids.teens.trial.classes> 07714 1948

We don't just teach kicking and punching, we teach children to be polite, disciplined and focused. Countless parents send their kids to sports clubs or after school clubs so their kids can build confidence, improve fitness and have fun. Krav Maga can offer your child one more vital ingredient – self defence. These days, with violence on the rise and bullying becoming more and more common, both the educational system and parents face difficulties in handling threats directed at children.

The Krav Maga system is taught in an environment that is fun to learn in; but at the same time stresses the seriousness of the training. If you are concerned about your children's safety, Krav Maga training will give you peace of mind, even when you are unable to be with them. Our younger children will imitate a lot of self defence techniques through play. They will build a foundation of skill and understanding whilst laughing and having fun.

Benefits include expanded friendship circle, increased confidence, improved mental focus and physical coordination, learning determination and respect for self and others.

HOME ACTIVITIES

Indoor Treasure Hunt

This takes some planning but will provide hours of fun for the children and time for you to have a cuppa. Place little clues around the house all leading to the grand treasure at the end of the challenge. Each clue/riddle must be completed in order to find the next one. Not only is this fun for all ages, but it teaches children to work together as a team to find the Treasure.

Peg It

Place coloured dots on clothes pegs and hide them around the house. Assign a number to each colour then challenge the kids to collect as many as possible within a set amount of time. The person with the most points at the end of the time wins.

Pitching Pennies

At last a use for all the pennies sitting around the house. Place a large sturdy plastic cup on a chair or table and give the children the same number of pennies each. Get them to stand by the cup then take a set number of steps away from the cup in accordance with their age. The aim of the game is to try to toss the pennies into the cup without knocking it over. The person who scores the most wins.

Homemade Microwave Puffy Paint

DIY paint that puffs up in the microwave? Perfect creative activity with the kids on a rainy day. It's quick, easy and Super fun. Start with 1 cup of flour, mix in 3 Teaspoons of baking powder, 1 teaspoon of salt and enough water to make it the consistency of pancake batter. Divide mixture into 4 parts and put into snack sized Ziploc baggies along with some food colouring. (even better if you have 4 different colours) squish it all around to mix up the colours (definitely part of the fun). Rubber band the baggies as if you were icing a cake and snip off teeniest bit of the tip. Paint away on your paper. When done, pop the painting into the microwave for 30-45 seconds and watch the paint puff up and grow. Paint as many pictures as you like, this is a great kitchen science art project. Have a little art show at the end.

Mini Olympics

Can be played inside or outside, just make sure to kid proof the area. Set up an obstacle course with any household objects (pillows, boxes, balls) create an egg and spoon race, compete to get the balls in the bucket. A chance to get creative and active and use up some of that extra energy.

Origami

Ideal for kids into arts and crafts, takes some patience, paper and scissors. There are loads of tutorials on YouTube, make it a family event and have a good laugh if it just doesn't turn out quite right.

Spaghetti Towers

Give the kids dry spaghetti and masking tape. The mission? To build towers. The strongest and tallest wins.

Cut Out Shops

Draw and cut out pretend money (or use monopoly money if you have it), cut out pictures of food, toys and clothes from magazines. Get your child to play a shopping game where they buy and sell goods. Not only is this creative but it also teaches kids how to count and share.

Hide & Treat

Hide small treats such as toys or sweets around the house. You could encourage your kids with clues and shout 'getting warmer' when anyone gets close to ramp up the excitement.

Junk Modelling

Empty the recycling box and get creative with tape and scissors. Make space rockets, robots, cars and anything you can think of.

Play Do

DIY Play Do is easy and fun. Check out the 4 minute Play Do recipe on www.imaginationtree.com using household products. This can be stored in an air tight container for up to 6 months.

Build-A-Fort

Build a fort using pillows, blankets, boxes, get creative and dress up. Tell stories and put on some fun music. Make your own home videos to watch later.

Paint

Check out Little Brian Paint Sticks which are water soluble, child friendly, with no need for water or brushes, just squeeze and go. These can be used on all types of surfaces.

www.littlebrian.com can be found at Tesco's, Smythes, Toymaster, Ryman, Debenhams and more.

Kids Yoga

Kids yoga is all the rage and it's great to get those muscles moving. Go on YouTube to find family friendly yoga for all ages, find some space and do the class together. Keep it fun and fitness based.

Board Games

Always have a stash of jigsaw puzzles, board games and sudoku on hand for the lazy summer rainy days Britain is famous for. Sometimes keeping it simple is the best way.

Family Home Movie Day

Make some popcorn, put on the pajamas and put on the family movies. Netflix has tons of kid's choices along with prime video, sky, disney and more.

Sock Chase

Hide socks all over the house. Not pairs but single socks. Give each child a single sock each and put on the egg timer, or the timer on your phone which pings every 2 minutes. They must return the pair of socks before the bell sounds. Great use of extra energy.

Kids Craft: Streamer Rainbows

Good rainy day activity. Cut paper plates in half and attach strips of coloured tissue paper to the back side. You can use construction paper, crepe paper or whatever you have on hand. Glue cotton balls to the front side to create a cloud – this is much more fun if they shred the cotton balls first before gluing them. Easy peasy bright and cheery which can be hung up in their rooms.

Pom Pom Rainbow Challenge

This is a great activity to practice colour recognition, matching and fine motor skills. Buy a mixed bag of coloured pompoms from the hobby /craft store if you don't have them handy. Draw a rainbow outline on large craft paper (also available from craft/hobby store). You can either colour the rainbow yourself if you have really little ones, or have kids colour this in first. Include a pot of gold, clouds and a sun to make it extra creative. Put some glue on a plastic plate so everyone can share and match the coloured pompoms to the colours in the rainbow. Hang it up to dry when finished.

What Am I Eating?

Good for 8-11 yr olds. Blindfold one person and raid the cupboards to find items for them to taste. Things like honey, soy sauce, mustard, frozen pea, marshmallow etc. all work well. The blindfolded person must try and guess what they have been given to taste. Make sure you check for food allergies before playing this game. And it is probably best to supervise the food choices!

Sock Wars

For this game you will need 10-20 socks rolled up into balls:

Divide the room into two equal halves and place the socks on the line in the middle (you could use masking tape to mark). Divide all the kids into two equal teams.

The object of the game is to get as many socks onto the other teams side of the room before time is up. Team members must stay on their side of the room and toss the socks over to the other sides. A team member cannot hold onto a sock for more than 10 seconds before having to throw it. You could also add in beach balls of varying sizes with the socks, for variety.

Geocaching

Ask your kids if they want to go outdoors for a trek or nature walk and you are met with moans of protest. Introduce them to the fantastic activity of 'Geocaching' and you'll never have a problem pulling them away from the television again! Geocaching is basically a modern-day treasure hunt, that uses a Global Positioning System (GPS) to guide you to the treasure. People all over the world have hidden trinkets and objects at various locations, which you and your child(ren) can go out and find. A perfect way to get you and the kids out and exercising in the fresh-air! www.geocaching.com

Gardening

Give your child their own space in the garden, and teach them how to grow plants, vegetables and flowers. Let them see how things grow and then become food for your table or beautiful flowers to decorate. Seeing the results of their work gives great fulfilment, and they may be more inclined to eat the vegetables/salads they have grown themselves. Older kids can also help keep the garden mowed and weeded, which are great exercise and perfect for earning some extra pocket money. You can find child gardening sets on amazon.

DIY Spa Day for the Girls

Prepare your salon and layout some girly towels. Have each girl pick out colour for their nails and toes. Make lemonade or tea to sip during and after their treatments. Make a simple face mask combining avocado, oatmeal and honey (loads of DIY recipes on pinterest). Put on some relaxing spa music. Apply the face masks, girls can do their own if they like. Use a nice smelly lotion to massage hands and feet while masks are drying. Remove face masks with warm damp cloths/tea towels while lying on 'salon mats'. Now it's time for the best part which is having your nails painted. Time to put on a movie while nails are drying, which gives YOU a break as well.

Food Word Scramble

Takes a little pre-work for you but this will keep the kids occupied for enough time to allow you a cup of tea. Take fifteen food words and write them down (this is your list) then re-write them in order with all the letters scrambled. The first person to unscramble all the letters wins!

Bake a Cake in a mug

This chocolate cake in a mug is a chocoholic's dream and you can make it in less than 5 minutes - and yes, that does include mixing and cooking time! Find a scoop of ice-cream to eat with it or just wait in front of your microwave with your spoon ready!

- 4 tbs self-raising flour
- 2 tbs sugar
- 2 tbs cocoa
- 1 egg
- 3 tbs milk
- 3 tbs vegetable oil
- 1/2 tsp vanilla essence
- 1 tbs milk chocolate chips

In a large mug, place all the dry ingredients and mix well with a spoon. Use the spoon to grind all of the cocoa against the side of the cup so there are no lumps.

Add the egg and beat it a little on top of the dry ingredients to break the yolk.

Add the oil, milk and vanilla and mix until well combined.

Stir the chocolate chips in and put into the microwave on high for 3 minutes.

Serve with a nice big scoop of ice-cream.

Card Games:

Old Maid also known as Scabby Queen

Number of players: 3 or more players

Cards needed: Standard 52-card deck, remove the Queen of Clubs.

Goal: not to end up with the Old Maid!

How to Play: Dealer deals out all the cards to all the players. The players look at their cards and discard any pairs they have e.g. a pair of sevens or a pair of kings.

The dealer then offers your cards spread face down to the player to their left. That player selects a card from their hand without looking at it and adds it to their hand. If it makes a pair, they can discard the pair. They offer their hand then to the next player on the left and so on.

If you get rid of all your cards, you are safe and are out. The last person who ends up with the Old Maid or Scabby Queen is the loser.

Sevens

Number of players: 3–7 players

Cards needed: Uses standard deck of 52 cards

Goal: to get rid of all your cards

How to Play: Deal all the cards out to all the players (some might have more). Player to left of dealer plays first and play continues clockwise. If he or she has a 7 they must play or pass.

When a 7 is played, it's laid in the middle of the table as the foundation for other cards to play on.

Once a 7 is played, the 6 and 8 of the same suit can be played, either side of the 7. Cards are then played in sequence up to King and down to Ace. If you can't play, you pass. The winner is the person who gets rid of his or her cards.

Go Fish

Number of Players: 2-4 Players

Cards needed: Standard 52 card deck

Goal: to collect the most sets of 4 cards

How to Play: Shuffle the cards and if 2 of you are playing, 7 cards are dealt to start with. If more than 2, deal 5 cards to each player to start with. The rest of the cards are placed face down in the middle.

The player to the left of the dealer starts and asks another player for a card that they need e.g. "John, do you have any 4s?". If the player has any of the card requested, they must hand them over to the player. If you get a requested card you get another turn. If the player you have asked doesn't have a card, they say "Go Fish" and you have to pick one from the middle pile.

If you collect 4 of a kind, you can put them down on the table.

The game continues until all the cards are finished, the winner is the person with the most sets of 4.
